QUEER CELEBRATION

Strange Sights Witnessed by World's Fair Visitors.

A MOHAMMEDAN CHRISTMAS.

Penance and Prayer Followed by Feasting and Merrymaking—A Colossal Statue of Gladstone, a Tribute to the Great Statesman Unveiled in Midway Plaisance.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Strange sights were witnessed in Midway Plaisance yesterday. The Mohammedans in the queer street began the celebration of the birthday of the "true prophet" and the manner of it filled the spectators with wonder and at times with horror.

The Mohammedan Christians bring penance and prayer in addition to feasting and making merry. The day had been brightened by the sun but a few minutes when the guards and early risers in Midway Plaisance were attracted to the Algerian village by a mighty hubbub. All the dancing girls and the native attendants of the bazaar were congregated in the restaurant, and they were attired in their most gorgeous costumes.

Two lambs were brought into the room by a couple of black men and slaughtered in the presence of the et tiro company, while the worshipper sang a quaint song and shrank to the floor in praises. A brazier full of live coals stood just outside the door of the safe. The blood of the lambs was caught in earthen dishes and placed near the brazier.

After a half hour of prayer, during which time nearly all the villagers remained prostrate on the floor, the women gathered about the vessels. One after another of the girls approached the dishes of blood and dipped their hands in the warm red fluid.

Some of the women ran to the nearest wall and placed their blood-stained hands against the woodwork so as to leave the impression of their fingers outlined in red. Then they rushed back to the brazier, and thrusting their hands into the live coals, ran with a handful to the blood marks on the woodwork and actually burned away the red stains with the fire held in their bare hands.

This peculiar ceremony occupied the best part of an hour and was intended to typify the cleansing of blood by fire after death. The greatest part of the forenoon was occupied by the women in penance and self-torture. Three of them picked up live coals and drew them across their bare bosoms. Other women threw themselves on their faces or knees on the floor.

One woman ran swiftly at the wall of her room, hurled herself head foremost against it. This display of fanaticism among the girls lasted until noon. The all care was thrown aside and the day was given over to feasting and dancing.

TRIBUTE TO GLADSTONE.

Colossal Statue of the Great Statesman Unveiled at the World's Fair.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Tribute to the greatest living statesman was paid yesterday afternoon by the unveiling in the banqueting hall of Donegal castle, in the Irish village of the Midway Plaisance, world's fair grounds, of a colossal statue of William Ewart Gladstone. The event was participated in by an audience that crowded the hall and packed itself on the lawn outside.

The statue, which is nine feet in height and stands on a 12-foot pedestal, is a facsimile of the one unveiled front of Bow church, London, in 1870 by Lord Carlington, and is by the same sculptor, Bruce N. Joy of London, who was present yesterday and also was introduced to the audience.

Major Carter Harrison presided over the exercises yesterday afternoon, and in the course of a vigorous address compared Bismarck and Gladstone, the infinite advantage of the latter, "The premier," he said, "was the uncrowned king of England. Victoria was the figurante as queen, but Gladstone was the king by the will of the people. He had been cursed by the English and damned by the Irish, but he was wiser than his opponents and had builded better than the Irish knew or ever imagined."

At the conclusion of the mayor's address Mrs. Ernest Hart of Long Island pulled the cord and the silken cloth fell to the ground, disclosing the statue of the English statesman. That was the signal for applause that continued for several moments. The well known Irish song, "Kathleen Mavourneen," was then sung by Mrs. Genova Johnston Bishop, the Irish soprano.

The formal oration was delivered by Judge W. A. Morgan and at its conclusion there was more music, a few remarks by Governor Peck of Wisconsin and Mrs. Hart brought the exercises to a close with an expression of thanks on behalf of the women of England and Ireland. The exercises closed shortly after 6 o'clock and the four hours intervening before the closing gates a continuous line of men and women filed through the village to inspect the statue.

American Derby.

CHICAGO, June 26.—Boundless, the son of Harry O'Fallon, won the great American derby race of a mile and a half in 2:38, St. Leonards second and Clifford third. The race was for $60,000; $50,000 to winner, $7,000 to second and $3,000 to third. Over 75,000 people witnessed the race.

Fight with Negro Toughs.

CINCINNATI, June 26.—In a fight between the police and a gang of negro toughs in "Little Bucktown," two of the former, Jerry Booker was shot and killed, and William Foster was probably fatally shot, while Officer Malone was badly beaten about the head and will probably die.

MRS. GRANT MEETS MRS. DAVIS. Both Desired the Meeting, Which Took Place at West Point.

WEST POINT, N. Y., June 26.—Mrs. Ulysses S. Grant and Mrs. Jefferson Davis met at Cranston's hotel, one mile south of West Point, the scene of the early studies of their husband's. Mrs. Grant has been staying at Cranston's for the last three weeks. She had desired to meet Mrs. Davis, but the opportunity did not present itself.

Mrs. Davis, too, was anxious to make the acquaintance of Mrs. Grant. Mrs. Davis, who has been staying at the Marlborough hotel in New York, arrived on the Mary Powell at 5 o'clock. She took a carriage to the hotel, where a large crowd had heard of her arrival had gathered. Mrs. Grant was not on the veranda of the hotel when the carriage arrived, not having been notified that Mrs. Davis was so close at hand.

The widow of the Confederate general registered, and then started up the two flights of stairs to her rooms. In the hall on the second floor she met a lady dressed as she was, in black silk with crepe trimmings. The two looked at each other for a moment, then Mrs. Grant—for it was she—put out her hand and warmly clasped the hand of Mrs. Davis. There was no introduction, no ceremony. Each lady expressed her pleasure at meeting the other. Then Mrs. Grant accompanied Mrs. Davis to the door of her room, where they part ed until dinner.

Mrs. Grant said she already liked Mrs. Davis very much. Mrs. Grant said also that her plans for the summer were not yet completed, but that she would probably remain at Cranston's for a week or two at least.

She and Mrs. Davis, she thought, would enjoy a number of carriage rides together while they remained at West Point.

LELAND STANFORD BURIED.

One Hundred and Fifty of His Ranch Workmen Act as Escort.

MENLO PARK, Cal., June 26.—The funeral services of Senator Leland Stanford were held on the grounds of Stanford university, at Palo Alto, and the remains were placed in the family mausoleum. Special trains from San Francisco brought a great number of people. Employees of the ranch, numbering 150 men, acted as an escort.

The services were simple. Bishop Nichols read the burial service of the Episcopal church, and the choir of Grace church of San Francisco sang several hymns. Rev. Dr. Stebbins, pastor of the First Unitarian church of San Francisco, delivered an address, reviewing the life and character of the dead senator. At the conclusion of the address the cortège proceeded to the mausoleum. When the final resting place of the dead was reached the casket was inclosed in a steel covering, and then lowered into the sarcophagus.

HOMES IN HONDURAS.

A Number of Buckeye Families Will Seek Them.

CLEVELAND, June 26.—A large colony is being organized here to emigrate to Honduras. Already over 30 heads of families have joined the movement, and many more are seriously considering the enterprise.

A representative will be sent to Central America in a few weeks to examine and report definite plans. It is expected that a settlement will be made along the interoceanic railroad or on the Chamelion and Ulua rivers.

Correspondence has been conducted with the consul general of Honduras in New York, and the intention is now to leave here early in the winter. The colonists contemplate raising products of temperate climates, as well as tropical fruits.

Racial Duel With Pistols.

OMAHA, June 26.—James Frame, proprietor of the Hotel Gardner, and Constable Winfrey engaged in a pistol duel at short range, ending in the death of the former and fatal wounding of the latter. The officer attempted to levy on some property of Frame to satisfy an execution for $5. Both drew their guns at the same instant and commenced firing. Only a foot separated the duelists. Both emptied their revolvers and nearly every bullet took effect. Frame fell dead and the officer by his side, fatally wounded.

Peculiar and Fatal Accident.

KENT, O., June 26.—Frank Nuell, a section man on the Cleveland, Canton and Southern railway, was killed at a point one mile below Mogadore, south of Kent, in a peculiar manner. He stepped down an embankment with the other men to allow a freight train to go by, and a door fell from one of the cars, striking him on the forehead. His skull was crushed, and death resulted soon after. He leaves a wife and six small children.

Returned After Twenty-Five Years.

MIDDLETON, O., June 26.—John Calbfish, after 25 years of wandering in every clime, by land and sea, returned to his home here some time ago, to find his mother and father buried, but a married sister living near took him in, and will care for him. John says he will roam no more.

Drove Into a Lake While Drunk.

MONTECILLO, Minn., June 26.—While returning from Becker Ed Everett, aged 25, and a boy named Peters, drove into Big lake and were drowned. They were intoxicated. Everett's body and the horse and buggy were found the next morning. The boy's body has not been found.

Big Lumber Blaze.

OMAHA, June 26.—The lumber yards of John M. Wakefield, under sheds covering two acres of ground, and well stocked, were burned. The loss is estimated at $800,000.

IN THEIR MEMORY.

Chicago Anarchists Erect a Monument to Their Brethren.

THE UNVEILING PROCEEDINGS.

A Very Quiet, Orderly and Impressive Ceremony Takes Place in Waldheim Cemetery—The Exercises at the Graves Preceded by a Short Parade in the City. Description of the Monument.

CHICAGO, June 26.—The unveiling of the granite monument to the memory of the five anarchists, August Spies, Albert Parsons, Adolph Fisher, Louis Lingg and George Engel, which took place Sunday afternoon at Waldheim cemetery, was an impressive ceremony. More than 1,500 persons assembled at the burial ground to stamp once more with their approval the sentiment and actions of the men whom the state of Illinois found guilty of treason and put to death.

The crowd was orderly and the few policemen under whose protection the ceremony took place, found little to do beyond keeping the sympathizers with anarchy in line if they surged through the gates of the enclosure. It was a crowd of Germans, Poles and Bohemians. Scarcely an American was to be seen, and the exercises were carried on mainly in foreign tongues.

The character of the speeches could not be called incendiary but rather that of mild protest against the existing order of government. The ringing oratory of the days when the red flag waved where it pleased was gone, and all the enthusiasm the orators could bring from their auditors was an occasional outburst of applause not very certain in its sound.

A marked feature of the oratory, however, and one which was most liberally applauded, was a showing of strong animosity toward Judges Gary and Grinnell and other officials of the law who had been prominent in the celebrated trial.

The exercises at the grave were preceded by a short parade in the city. The entire ceremony was under the auspices of Matthias Schmedinger, president of the Pioneer and Support association, which has made the monument a possibility and which, ever since the celebrated execution in the Cook county jail, has supported the widows and children of the five anarchists.

At Waldheim Mr. Schmedinger opened the exercises with a few very temperate remarks. The monument was formally tendered to the association by Sculptor Weinert. Then came the English speech by William Holmes. He invited the European visitors now here to see the fair as well as the wealthy toadies to European aristocracy of our own country to "gaze upon the stern figure of their nemesis and read in her defiant attitude the prophecy of labor's deliverance."

Dr. Ernst Schmidt, the veteran socialist of Chicago, delivered the German oration. The speaker refrained from any direct criticism of the proceedings in the anarchist trial, but he gave a very striking paraphrase in advertising to the celebrated trial of Jean Calas of Florence.

The red hood which enveloped the monument was drawn aside by young Albert Parsons, who was directed by his mother, the widow of Albert Parsons.

Nearby a glass covered table the ticket passes from this roll to another roll fitted into a ballot box. The glass cover is divided into four sections, and between each section is a row of keys similar to the typewriter. The upper key is larger and is called the straight ticket key, and when this is struck it locks the other keys, thus preventing mistakes, and the same thing happens when another key is struck.

The machine is made in the form of a booth, and when a voter steps into it the giving of the floor furnishes the motor power to place a new ticket under the key-board. The floor removes its former position only when the voter has retired and closed the door.

If desired, the machine is provided with electrical devices for automatically counting votes.

Persons who have seen the Meyers voting machine in New York, pronounce this one more simple, accurate and expeditious, and say it can be made and sold for one-eighth the price.

Policeman Wounded by a Desperado.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 26.—Bud Wooten, a desperado character, got drunk and going home armed himself with a big gun and attempted to kill his wife. He lives in a tough part of the city, and when an officer arrived to arrest him he resisted, and a terrible encounter took place, the policeman receiving a bad wound in the head. While the wound was being dressed Wooten, who was in charge of guards, broke away, but was captured after a hot race and landed in jail. He is a son of the noted John Henry Wooten, now serving a term in the Moundsville penitentiary.

Was Ex-Senator Paul Murdered?

TOLEDO, June 26.—The body of a man found drowned at Monroe, Mich. Saturday is thought to be that of ex-State Senator David Paul of Centerville, O., who mysteriously disappeared from this city on May 11 with a large sum of money in his possession. As far as given the description of the drowned man corresponds to that of the missing senator, and the theory that he met with foul play and was thrown into the river seems to be borne out.

NEW YORK, June 26.—John Corcoran, 88 years old, for years bookkeeper for Michael McNally of West Superior. Fireman Walter Reilly was badly scalded, and is not expected to live. Conductor J. Hall was also badly injured.

ENGLAND'S GREAT LOSS.

No Further Particulars of the Marine Disaster on Tripoli.

LONDON, June 26.—In consequence of the impossibility of getting details from Syria about the loss of the Victoria, the London newspapers and agencies are driven to invent particulars. On Friday morning Admiral Markham telegraphed from Tripoli, Syria, the facts to the admiralty, which have been published, adding he should send the survivors to Malta at once and await instructions.

Since then he has telegraphed the names of all the saved persons on the Victoria, and no other news has been received from any one near the scene of the disaster. The public naturally wants more, which there is no way of getting. No dispatches, except from Admiral Markham himself, can be sent from Tripoli. Admiral Markham knows the whole circumstances of the disaster must soon be investigated, and serious punishment awarded any one found culpably negligent.

He will, therefore, be careful not to send an account by wire himself, lest in the transmission, something be omitted or altered to prejudice any officers involved. He would also see that no officer or man was allowed to telegraph anything about the accident, and, therefore, it is impossible that anything further than is contained in the dispatches can be learned from that point.

As regards theories and opinions of the exact nature of the accident, the suggestions of various experts of more or less prominence incline to the opinion that the ships were probably performing what is termed the "giddien evolution" when they came into collision. Attention centers in the watertight compartments, and wonder is expressed these did not keep her afloat. As one naval officer put it, she was really capsized by her watertight compartments.

The fact of so large a proportion of midshipmen having been drowned, together with Captain Norris, who was also naval instructor, points to the fact they were at school on the lower deck when the collision took place, otherwise the majority of the lads would have been on deck, and the probability is that as they could all swim like ducks most of them would have been saved.

The widows and mothers of the sailors who perished on the Victoria will, it is expected, receive a full year's pay. Officers' widows will receive an annual pension, and children of the higher grade officers an allowance. Patriotic funds will probably supplement the payment to the seamen's widows. Important changes in the constitution of the Victoria's crew were made in June. This increases the difficulty of compiling a complete list of the victims.

UNIQUE ELECTION DEVICE, But the Law Needs Changing to Make It Operative.

FRANKLIN, Ind., June 26.—A unique invention, a ballot or voting machine, has been perfected by a resident of this city, Douglass Dobbins, and a company is to be formed by Indianapolis and Franklin capitalists to push the device.

The machine is so constructed as to follow out and strengthen the Australian system of voting. It makes an absolutely secret ballot and mistakes impossible. The tickets are printed on one continuous roll, which is locked in the machine.

Beneath a glass covered table the ticket passes from this roll to another roll fitted into a ballot box. The glass cover is divided into four sections, and between each section is a row of keys similar to the typewriter. The upper key is larger and is called the straight ticket key, and when this is struck it locks the other keys, thus preventing mistakes, and the same thing happens when another key is struck.

The machine is made in the form of a booth, and when a voter steps into it the giving of the floor furnishes the motor power to place a new ticket under the key-board. The floor removes its former position only when the voter has retired and closed the door.

The second ballot to be taken in Bavaria is expected to strengthen the Clericals greatly and increase somewhat the Social Democrats' and South German Democrats' representation in the Reichstag.

The Social Democrats are jubilant, and boast that they will come to Berlin on July 4 with fully 55 deputies. They held enthusiastic meetings in every election district of this city.

The second ballot to be taken in Bavaria is expected to strengthen the Clericals greatly and increase somewhat the Social Democrats' and South German Democrats' representation in the Reichstag.

ANARCHISTS IN THE ARMY.

ROME, June 26.—Many anarchist papers, leaflets and books have been seized in the barracks in Milan, Naples, Florence and Turin within the last five days. The military authorities think that the matter has been smuggled into the barracks for months with the connivance of non-commissioned officers. Many non-commissioned officers have been arrested on suspicion of having facilitated the circulation of anarchist literature, and several commissioned officers have been reduced in rank to punish them for negligence.

A NEW TREATY WITH CHINA.

LONDON, June 26.—A dispatch from Shanghai to The Standard says: "Li Hung Chang, the Chinese premier, has intimated that a new treaty between China and the United States will be necessary in view of the present condition of the immigration question. Probably the new ministry will be charged with the task."

THE COWBOY RACE.

DUBUQUE, Ia., June 26.—Berry still has a good lead in the cowboy race. He arrived here at 9:30 yesterday morning and rode across the bridge to Illinois at 12:30. His horses are fresh and in excellent condition. Rattlesnake Pete pulled in at 12:30, and left after a rest of two hours. Gillespie got

WHAT MCKINLEY COSTS THE FARMERS.

"The steady decline of our exports of farm products," says an exchange, "is telling the story, month by month, of the McKinley tariff's ruin of the American farmer. Though wheat is lower than ever before, foreigners can not buy it because they are not allowed to send us the articles of universal necessity that our people want, that the people of Europe would be glad to give in exchange for our wheat, corn, beef, pork and cotton."

"The latest figures from the Bureau of Statistics at Washington show that in our exports for the nine months ending on March 1 there was a falling off of $89,127,000 in the value of breadstuffs exported as compared with the corresponding period of the year before. In the hogs, beef and dairy products exported for the nine months the shrinkage amounted to $6,683,000."

"Thus, during the nine months ending with March 1, American farmers received from foreigners for breadstuffs, hogs, beef and dairy products $85,810,000 less than during the nine months ending March 1, 1892."

"For what they have sold at home they have received nearly 25 per cent. less than during the previous year, owing to the restricted markets and the artificially low prices for farm products created by the monopoly tariff."

"European and other foreigners can not take so much as they would like to take of our bread, meat and cotton, nor pay good prices for what they do take, because the customs taxes levied for the enrichment of monopoly manufacturers restricts the demand for their wares and reduces their profits on what they do sell to us."

"These figures from Washington show conclusively that the McKinley taxes are paid doubly and trebly by the American farmer, whom it compels not only to pay more for the manufactured articles he uses, but also to take much less for the produce that he makes for sale."

"One hundred millions of dollars on bread and meat and $100,000,000 more on cotton is about what the McKinley tariff costs American farmers on their foreign trade in nine months."

"Add what they lose by low prices on domestic sales of produce, and the agricultural producers of this country are out of pocket not far from $500,000,000 a year by reason of the Republican conspiracy to rob them."

"Charge it to McKinley. Charge it to Ben Harrison. Charge it to the Republican party, which mortgaged the productive energies of the United States to a greedy ring of monopolists to pay for one more short lease of power."

But the people of the country refused them this coveted lease of power, and a Democratic administration will correct the evils of the McKinley act.

COLLECTOR RHODES, of the Richmond district, has given the best positions in his office to two editors, the fortunate ones being James R. Marrs, of the Lancaster Record-Homestead, and Thomas H. Fox, of theington City Times. Both are excellent men and deserving Democrats.

Notice.

We have been requested by Mother Borgia to make the following announcement: "No small children will be admitted to the commencement exercises at St. Francis de Sales Academy on Tuesday. Those presiding at the door are instructed not to admit any one who will be accompanied by an infant or child under six or seven years of age."

The Ladies.

The pleasant effect and perfect safety with which ladies may use the California liquid laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions, makes it their favorite remedy. To get the true and genuine article, look for the name of the California Fig Syrup Co., printed near the bottom of the package.

For the Farmer.

S. D. Goff, of Clark County, harvested 3,500 bushels of blue grass seed this year. The crop is very light.

A farmer in California not long ago sold 150 hogs, averaging 173 pounds each, at 7½ cents per pound. This means the sum of $1,848 for that small band of porkers.

The last Florida tobacco crop sold at prices ranging from thirty-five cents to $2.25 per pound. It is expected four times the usual acreage will be planted in that State this year.

Sanford Carpenter, of near Millersburg, has returned from Lebanon, Tenn., from where he shipped 2,000 lambs, which he bought last fall. He will buy 5,000 more this week.—Carlisle Mercury.

Winchester Democrat: "Only 50 cents is being talked of as the price of wheat this year. The crop in Kentucky is considered good as compared with the crops in other places, but the more wheat a man has the worse off he will be at that price, which is way below the cost of production. Quite number of farmers are speaking of using wheat for feeding purposes if the price does not advance speedily and considerably."

Please Everybody.

The Maysvilleians who rendered "A Woman's Devotion" at Augusta Thursday night are highly praised. The Reporter says: "Though rendered by amateurs the play was produced in a manner creditable to professionals. Several of those who took part, and in fact all of them, deserve the highest commendation. Mr. Kinne- man, who is the manager, surely deserves much credit for the manner in which he has drilled the members of this company."

While nearly every member of the company had friends in our town their dramatic ability was practically unknown. Miss May Hamilton played the accompaniment for Miss Mollie Walz who favored the audience with a beautiful song. She responded to an encore and was loudly applauded. Harry Curran, who took the part of Vivian, favored the audience with a beautiful solo. Every one present expressed themselves as being highly pleased."

Kentucky Baptists

There are 1,441 Baptist congregations in Kentucky. They exist in every county except seven or eight, the number of congregations to the county ranging from one each in Leslie, Robertson and Rowan to forty each in Barren and Pulaski. The largest membership is in Jefferson, which has 19 organizations and 6,645 members; against 4,030 members in Barren, and 3,460 in Pulaski. The second county in point of membership is Owen, which has 5,003 members in 29 congregations. They are all Regular Baptists. There are, besides, in Kentucky, 161 congregations of Primitive Baptists, with 5,673 members, and 31 congregations of the Presbyterians, with 995 members.

Senator Wall.

Says the Owensboro Inquirer: "Hon. Garrett S. Wall, of Maysville, notifies his friends that he does not care to spend another term in the Kentucky Senate, to the detriment of his business and the preclusion from Legislature honors of other gentlemen who hanker after them more than he does. This attests discernment and judgment on Colonel Wall's part, that will probably result in his being re-committed for another term by his constituents who know how to keep a good thing when they get it."

They Brag About Their Public Schools.

Says the West Union (O) Scion: "If you go gunning for ignorant people don't go out of Adams County. Last Monday an old soldier from Twin Creek was having his pension voucher filled by one of the court house officials. He could not write his name and it was necessary to have parties to witness his mark. Twelve men from his neighborhood, who had been summoned in the Howe trial, were with him and would you believe it, but one out of the thirteen could write his name."

County Court.

The Courier-Journal Job Printing Company was allowed $32.75 for record books for the County Clerk. The same company was also allowed $21.75 for record books for Sheriff Jefferson. The accounts were ordered certified to the State Auditor for payment.

An inventory and appraisalment of the real and personal estate of J. C. Groves, deceased, was filed. The property is valued at about $2,500.

WILL PROBABLY PROVE FATAL.

George Gray, of Helena, in a Critical Condition From Injuries Accidentally Received.

Mr. George Gray, of Helena, partner of Mr. Thomas Best in the tobacco business, met with an accident last Thursday that will probably prove fatal.

He was up in a barn or warehouse lowering some tobacco when the cross piece or rail on which he was standing broke or turned. He fell some distance, striking another cross timber.

Three of his ribs were fractured and he received other serious internal injuries.

He was unconscious this morning, his condition being very critical. Mr. Gray is about sixty years of age and has a wife and two children.

The Cynthiana Democrat has the following: "During a recent religious revival, when prayers were being offered for unconverted husbands, a certain Cynthiana young lady whose face is generally wreathed in smiles was observed to be looking unusually serious. A kind, sympathetic sister turning to her, asked, 'Why are you so serious to-night?' She replied very innocently, 'I was grieving over the fact that I had no husband to pray for.' It is to be hoped that before the next revival that cause of sorrow will be removed."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

AN OLD LANDMARK.

The Residence of Col. Charles A. Marshall Destroyed by Fire.

Built by a Brother of Chief Justice Marshall—The Oldest Brick House in the County.

The old and picturesque country residence of Colonel Charles A. Marshall, near Washington, caught fire from a defective flue Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and was entirely destroyed.

One-half or more of the furniture was saved, together with the outbuildings, but the residence, which has been a landmark for generations, was a total loss.

The building was erected by Colonel Marshall's uncle, Alexander K. Marshall, a younger brother of Chief Justice John Marshall, and is supposed to have been a hundred years old. It is known to have been the oldest brick house in the county.

No home in all the land has been more noted for a refined and generous hospitality, and sincere sympathy is expressed on all sides for Colonel and Mrs. Marshall in the loss of their home in their declining years.

His listeners, of course, appeared very credulous, but one of them, a little more venturesome than the rest, mildly suggested that it might have been a turnpike, alluding in a sly way to the old man's frequent interviews with the highway when in a convivial mood. Uncle Davy understood at once, and, made at the offender with uplifted cane, but the latter managed to evade it and save his pate. The old man marked the fish story off his list after that.

His Parachute Falls to Work, and He Was Seriously Hurt.

CELINA, O., June 26.—Professor E. E. Craig, who claims to have a record of making 851 successful balloon ascensions and parachute leaps, met with what is almost sure to be a fatal accident.

The balloon was inflated, and he started on the road to the clouds, but from some cause he was unable to rise to a great height, probably 300 feet, and after stalling around in the air for several minutes cut loose and began the fall, but the parachute did not open as soon as it should, and when it did the descent was so rapid and he was so near the ground the force of the fall could not be stopped, and he fell in the road on North Main street, striking with great force. He is at this writing unable to speak, and is badly injured, mostly in the back and on the hips, and probably internally.
